BIRDSEED

by Mike Fitzsimons & Dave Williams

This has been a big week on the Hilltop what with the outbreak of pneumonia, freezing temperatures, the first snow flurries and what was by far the most timely innovation -- the formation of the Swimming Club. We are happy to see that at last the oft-neglected swimming pool (located immediately to the West of the Student Union Building) will be utilized. For the kick-off ceremonies President Tom McManus will do a full gainer in pike position off the roof of Science Hall into a snow bank.

Speaking of sports, among the big name colleges on our basketball schedule as it appeared in THE MICHAELMAN were several dates marked Pending. Being unfamiliar with this institution we were informed by the Dr. IQ of basketball, Jerry Martel, that the big five from Pending will prove themselves to be worthy adversaries??

Artie Kohler, whom we've never known to be at a loss for words, has been strangely quiet of late. Not that the wires holding his jaw together have completely stopped his effervescent flow of chit-chat, but they certainly have muted his personal P.A. system. If you see Artie be sure to ask him when he plans to use his wire cutters.

The ROTC officers who are doing a fine job of instilling in their charges the elements of close combat could take a lesson from George Cronin. He seems to have mastered the fine art of ignoring the many shots directed at him and still crawl to home territory with his heavy load without being detected by the enemy.

As a public service to our readers who drive in Burlington, we should like to inform you of the one-way traffic system now in effect in the heart of the financial and theatre districts. We will also be happy to enlighten you as to which way is the right way as soon as the traffic engineers and the drivers can get together on it. At this time the opinions of the two parties in question seem to differ.

Another public service being rendered closer to home is the sale of ladies lingerie in the bookstore - At last a gift for the college student who has everything.

STATEMENT OF THE WEEK DEPT.

Inquiring Student - Will you be in front of Science Hall all year??

Campus Cop - No, when the cold weather comes I'll be in Kiwanis Hall.

George Hartley known to the freshmen for his air-conditioned room and vast knowledge of English literature, will undoubtedly abet his career with the publication, later this month, of his article entitled Francis Bacon: Sublime Simplicity.

Question: What new club would you like to see on campus?

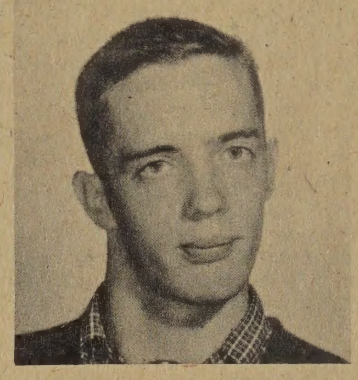
Jim Murtha, Class of '60, Bennington, Vt.

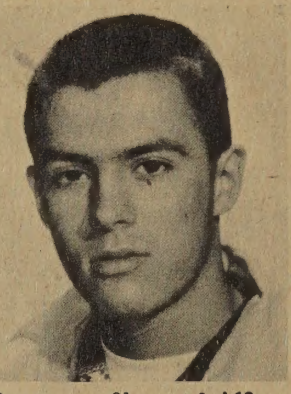
A few years ago there was a magazine written by the students called the Lance. This prose and poetry was written by students who were outstanding in these fields. It gave them the opportunity to have their works appraised by the public. It is my opinion that if this organization was brought back it would benefit all - those participating in this organization and those who read its works.



Bill Kane, Class of '61, New York City.

I think a swimming club would be of benefit to Michaelmen who cannot ski, but would like to participate in some activity during the long winter months. There has been much talk of such a club around campus.

With the current high interest in new clubs, I think it would be a good time to organize one.



Ric Ray, Class of '62, East Greenwich, Rhode Island.

Since the campus is not co-educational we need an organization which would afford additional opportunities to socialize with the young women from collegiate institutions in this area. In the future, we should have the facilities available to make this club practical. This organization should be the nucleus in the social sphere of the students - in co-ordination with the administration.

Past and Present

by Mike Gelinas

The steel strike has now been in effect for over 100 days. Ever since it started, and even months before, labor and management have been issuing conflicting facts and figures, claims and counterclaims, concerning the wages of steelworkers and their influence on inflation.

The result of this impasse and of half-hearted attempt as true collective bargaining has been the sacrificing of the interests of the nation. In every Steel Union and management contract negotiation since the 2nd World War, the issue has been wages. In the present strike wages are involved, but an increase in wages is not the issue which has resulted in the present deadlock.

The real issue centers around industry's demands to regain some of the control over work practices in the mills which the companies so willingly relinquished in the union-management post-war bargaining. Industry wants to change Section 2-B of the standard steel contract. Used since 1947, this deals with work rules that govern such matters as the number of men required to perform a particular job, and the authority of management to shift workers from one job to another in the interest of increased efficiency.

The present deadlock is a result of the refusal of the union to even discuss any changes in the work-rules, a condition which management considers as a necessary basis for any new contract. In support of the union's position, Mr. McDonald has issued such pearls of wisdom as "industrial dictatorship", "assembly-line slaves", "stop-watch-pirates", and other such candid but indelicate pronouncements. The Steel companies have been accusing the unions of loafing, feathering, and of demanding wages which only result in further increasing the inflationary spiral.

It must be admitted that the steel companies have valid reasons for trying to increase efficiency and holding the line on any wage increases. At present price levels, American steel and Swedish steel in foreign markets. In fact, foreign steel is cheaper in Pittsburgh, import duties and transportation included, than steel manufactured right there. The steel companies obviously are not going to stand idly by and watch the domestic market decrease.

But perhaps the most important aspect of the strike is the complete breakdown in free collective bargaining, the result of a trend that started after the War when the companies gave in to union demands concerning wages and work practices, rather than take a stand and reach a satisfactory resolution of differences.

This is perhaps what makes the present position of the steel companies seem rather untenable, since they are trying to regain some of the controls over their own mills which they relinquished. President Eisenhower invoked the injunction clause of the Taft-Hartley Act, forcing the resumption of work in the mills. Is this to occur in every major strike in the future? Has free collective bargaining reached the end of its former usefulness in settling union-management disputes?

It has if the unions continue to act as if every contract negotiation was a struggle, as Mr. McDonald phrased it, between "assembly-line slaves" and "industrial dictators". Free collective bargaining will continue to fail until the unions realize that continually rising wages will force price increases, loss of markets, and subsequent loss of jobs.

Only when the unions realize that they are not essentially antagonistic to management, but rather are a complementary and necessary element in American capitalism, with its rights and duties, will collective bargaining remain a free and voluntary method of resolving differences.

The alternative is government intervention, and forced collective bargaining, a solution which will please no one.

Council Receives $1,137 Residue

by FRED M. ENGLERT

Much to the approval of Student Council members, the financial status of the Council treasury was made known. Jack Donohue, Chairman of the Finance Committee, reported at this week's meeting that $2,085 is presently available for future use.

Total assets thus far amount to $4,137. This figure includes $3,000 as allotted by the college and $1,137 as carried over from last year. This latter figure was returned by clubs that were granted the money, but who didn't use it. If carrying over returned budgets from year to year is a precedent, then at least this Student Council strongly approves it.

So far this year, clubs and organizations on campus have been granted $2,020. With some $22 spent repairing the television set in Alumni Lounge, total expenses amounted to $2,051. Thus, $2,085 is in the Council treasury as of Tuesday, Oct. 20. This figure should amply cover student expenses until June.

It has been recent practice that classes granted loans to sponsor dances, etc., are held specifically responsible for exact reparation. The present Senior Class accrued a loss of $443 as a result of the 1959 Junior Weekend. This debt will be repaid to the Student Council by the end of the school year. As a sidelight, Winter Weekend provided a loss of $609 last year.

Another treasurer's report was given by Phil LaGoy, Class of '62. Here was re-

Blood Drive Commences November 20

Friday, November 20, marks the date for the annual Blood Drive here at St. Michael's. The Vermont-New Hampshire Chapter of the American Red Cross with the aid of the Pre-Medical Society here on campus will sponsor the drive expecting it to surpass last year.

Austin Hall will be made available from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. for all donors; coffee and doughnuts will be served.

QUOTA - 150 PINTS

The quota for this year has been set by the Regional office in Burlington, at 150 pints with hope that it will reach 200. This will insure that St. Michael's will remain the "bloodiest campus in the country," the title that the college has so earnestly kept in the past years.

CHAIRMEN

Through the diligent and co-operating work of Ed Anibal and Larry Costanzo, co-chairmen of the Drive, and of Ray Lolli, Phil LaGoy and Bob Beneshefski, the pre-drive is doing very well.

These members of the Pre-Medical Society visited each dorm on campus last Monday with donor cards and permission slips to promote this drive and were well satisfied with the results. Any questions concerning this drive will be gratefully accepted by these volunteers.

For the floor that produces the most donors the Pre-Medical Society will give a prize of $10.00.

ROTC Names Three Outstanding Cadets

by Jack Klag

Lt. Col. Wiley M. Bondurant today announced the names of the three senior cadets who are to receive the Distinguished Military Awards.

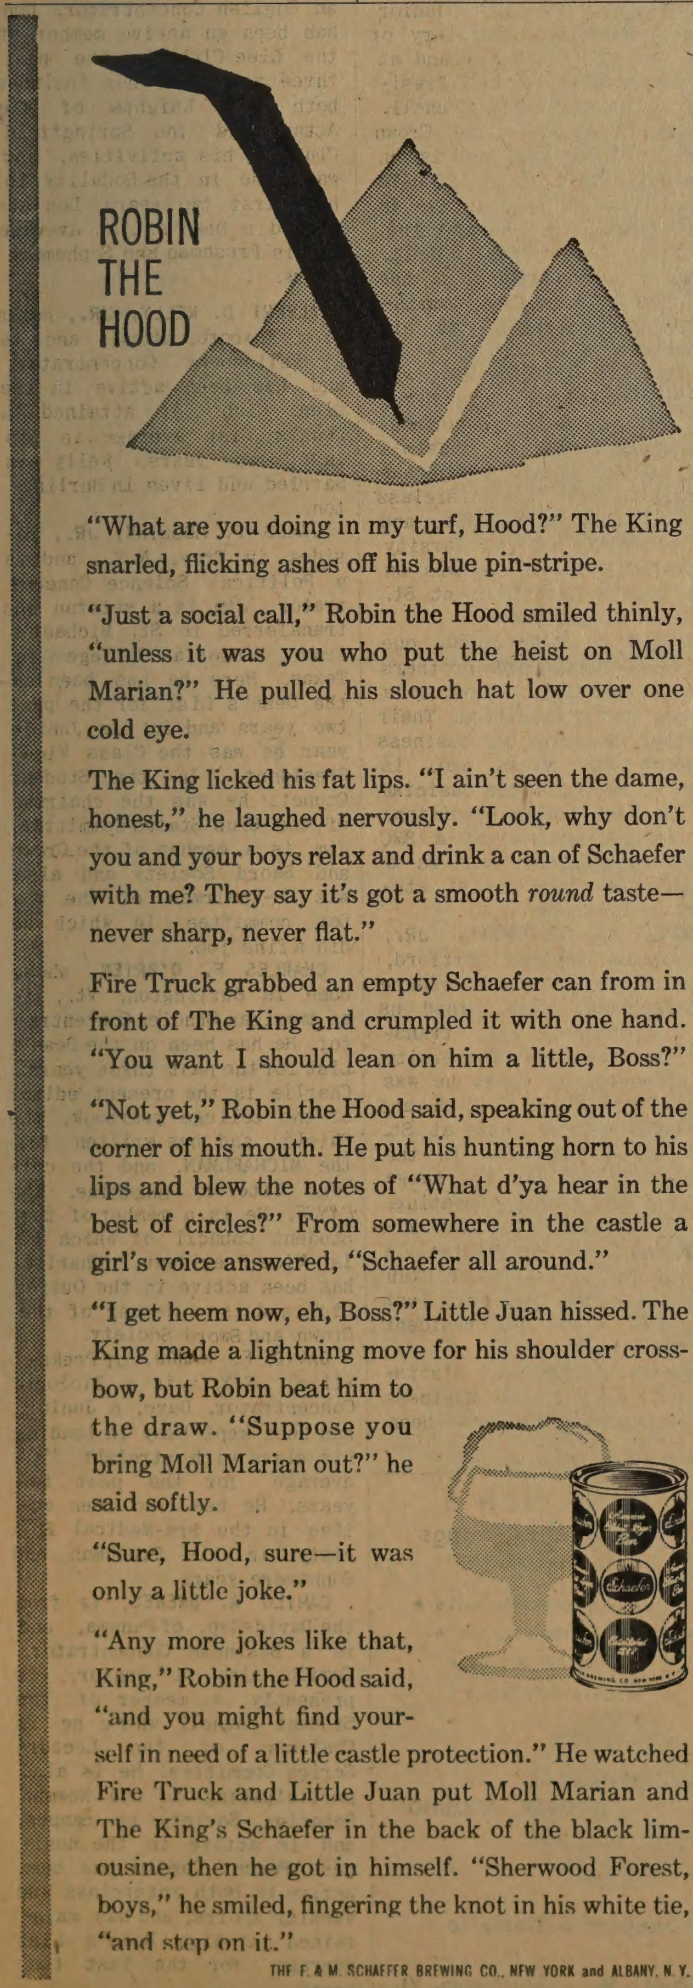
Cadets recommended and approved for this award are: Lt. Roland J. Holub, Lt. Col. Gary A. Gutchell, and Lt. Col. Thomas H. Sheridan.

Col. Bondurant stated, "In selecting a distinguished cadet we take an overall view of his abilities and accomplishments in the AFROTC."

Factors considered in choosing the three honor cadets were: the student's Quality Point average; his summer camp rating; AFROTC academic and leadership grade; the student command or staff assignment held in the cadet wing; and the recommendation of his instructor.

COMMISSION

The designation of Distinguished AFROTC awards permits the cadet to apply immediately for a Regular Air Force Commission and to wear the Distinguished Cadet ribbon. In addition, each cadet selected will have a copy of his selection letter placed in a permanent military file so that reference to the Distinguished AFROTC Cadet award may be made by the cadet whenever he would apply for the Regular Air Force Commission.



"What are you doing in my turf, Hood?" The King snarled, flicking ashes off his blue pin-stripe.

"Just a social call," Robin the Hood smiled thinly, "unless it was you who put the heist on Moll Marian?" He pulled his slouch hat low over one cold eye.

The King licked his fat lips. "I ain't seen the dame, honest," he laughed nervously. "Look, why don't you and your boys relax and drink a can of Schaefer with me? They say it's got a smooth round taste—never sharp, never flat."

Fire Truck grabbed an empty Schaefer can from in front of The King and crumpled it with one hand. "You want I should lean on him a little, Boss?"

"Not yet," Robin the Hood said, speaking out of the corner of his mouth. He put his hunting horn to his lips and blew the notes of "What d'ya hear in the best of circles?" From somewhere in the castle a girl's voice answered, "Schaefer all around."

"I get heem now, eh, Boss?" Little Juan hissed. The King made a lightning move for his shoulder crossbow, but Robin beat him to the draw. "Suppose you bring Moll Marian out?" he said softly.

"Sure, Hood, sure—it was only a little joke."

"Any more jokes like that, King," Robin the Hood said, "and you might find yourself in need of a little castle protection." He watched Fire Truck and Little Juan put Moll Marian and The King's Schaefer in the back of the black limousine, then he got in himself. "Sherwood Forest, boys," he smiled, fingering the knot in his white tie, "and step on it."

The Son of Famous Trapp Family Singers Attends SMC

by Robert J. Camisa

Few are the families whose exploits have been immortalized by the music of Rodgers and Hammerstein. Yet St. Michael's College has a student whose family furnished the moving story for "The Sound of Music" soon to open on Broadway.

The student is freshman Johannes "Johnny" Trapp from Stowe, Vermont. Johnny, a graduate of Canterbury School, and a veteran of 2 years of missionary work in the South Pacific, is in the pre-med concentration.

The Trapp Family came upon their fame unexpectedly in 1936 when the great Lotte Lehmannn heard them vocalizing in the backyard of their Austrian home and advised them to enter a festival for group singing. They won and as a result have been singing professionally for the past 20 years. Because of this hobby turned into a profession, the Trapps have received world acclaim for their endeavors in the field of music. Their records are among the top sellers of all time.

When Hitler invaded Austria, their cheerful house of song became a house of mourning. After declining to sing for Hitler they were in a very dangerous position and decided to flee Austria for the United States.

Upon their arrival in New York in 1938, they were a little bewildered by the maze of tall buildings which confronted them but they bravely embarked on a musical career that was to take them far. In 1941 because of their love for the outdoors they bought a home in Stowe, Vermont and have been living in the Green Mts. for the past 18 years.

LIFE STORY

In 1948 Mrs. Maria Augusta Trapp wrote the life story of her family which soon became a best seller all over Europe and in this country. As a result of its great popularity as a book, it was transformed into a film by a German motion picture firm. It was presented on the Continent, South America, and Canada and it met with great success. Because of the unpopularity at that time of foreign films in the United States, it never appeared on any theatre marquees.

The Trapp Family is shown when they sang at SMC in 1950 during the Procession of the Fatima Statue. The leader is Msgr. Wasner.

A touring American by the name of Leland Hayward happened to see the movie and imemdiately set out to find Mrs. Trapp. Because of her extensive travels around the Continent she could not be reached for sometime. Finally she was located and the proposition to have her book made into a musical play was put before her. At first she frowned upon this suggestion but finally relented and gave her consent.

During these past few weeks the production of "The Sound of Music", starring Mary Martin as the mother, has met with great success. These successes on the road have been so stunning that "Variety" the top paper in show business circles, has given it lavish praise.

ported that $50 has been credited to the Sophomore Class. This amount was given as a result of a joint Junior-Sophomore effort of sponsoring the dance, Oct. 3.

In the closing minutes of the Student Council, two recommendations were directed to the Student Council Welfare Committee. Charles Messenger, '61, suggested reinstating the bell warning system in the dorms.

Charles McManus, also a junior, proposed evaluation of the 8:30 P.M. deadline to receive medicine in the infirmary. If committee approval is given to these recommendations, a discussion meeting will be held with the College Representative Committee.

On November 16 the show opens in New York under the direction of Vincent Donaghue with the musical arrangements by the famous duo of Rodgers and Hammerstein. Thus far, the advance ticket sales have been so overwhelming that reservations will not be available for the next eight months.

Newly Formed Swimming Club Holds First Meeting

The Swimming Club, one of the newly formed clubs on campus, recently held its first meeting for the purpose of electing officers and setting up an activities schedule for the year.

The newly elected officers are as follows: Tom McManus, '60, president; Jack Donohue, '60, vice-president; Kevin Bergen, '61, treasurer; Bob Camisa '61, secretary.

Approximately 50 "Michaelmen were present at the first meeting. Immediately following the election of officers was the appointing of a committee for the purpose of drawing up a constitution.

AIM OF THE CLUB

Since the primary purpose of the club is that of swimming, the following plan was offered to all members of the club, it is as follows:

For the small sum of $9 per year, which covers the months of September through May, the swimming facilities of the Y.M.C.A. in Burlington will be open to all members five days a week at the pre-scheduled hours of 5 P.M. to 7 P.M. Monday through Thursday and 12 P.M. to 7 P.M. on Fridays. Also, this membership is good for any Y.M.C.A. in the country.

The first scheduled event of the club, still in the planning stage, will be a "splash party". The idea of this is to have the members of the club and their dates congregating at the the pool of the Y.M.C.A. Another idea is to form a swimming team to compete against other swimming teams of the fraternities at the University of Vermont. Also, Junior and Senior Life Saving programs will be offered to all members interested.

Sophomore Phil Lagoy is shown being interviewed by a Supreme Council Representative of the Knights of Columbus. The K of C screened students for one week on the hilltop.

Campus Council Of K of C Takes Name

by Kevin Bergen

The Knights of Columbus' new Council at St. Michael's College will be called the Chaplain John Verret Council, in honor of the Reverend John Verret, S.S.E., a dedicated priest, war hero, and graduate of St. Michael's College.

Father Verret, S.S.E., was the son of a prominent Burlington family of six children. Two of his brothers, Omer and Albert still reside in the area, and have also attended St. Michael's College.

CHAPLAIN IN WW II

Upon completion of his studies, John Verret was ordained a priest in June of 1939 and entered the war in 1942. He served as a Captain with the 507th paratroop infantry, performing the duties of chaplain.

In January of 1945 while his outfit was recuperating in England he asked to be put back in action. He returned to the front and was attending to the wounded with an ambulance corp. While giving the last sacraments to a wounded soldier he became the victim of a direct hit and Father John Verret, S.S.E., died on January 8, 1945.

His nephew, Paul, attended St. Michael's College last year and is now a candidate for the Society of St. Edmund at Enders Island, Connecticut. Father Verret's sister who now resides in Waterbusy has a son who is presently a Michaelman. He is John M. Caron.

Father Verret's fine character can be seen best in this incident in which he and his men were about to make their very first jump in training. They were all somewhat skeptical about making the initial plunge so Captain Verret stepped forward for the first jump, setting the example for his men to follow.

His picture can be seen in the vestibule of College Hall above the names of the Michaelmen who served in WW II.

I would like to see the organization of a track team on campus. One reason is that anyone who can't play baseball is unable to participate in any sport in the spring. Another reason is that many fellows have talent for track because many skills are required for the great number of events. My last reason is that many students here were on track teams in high school and would be able to contribute.

The Place to Go for the Brands you Know

SMC Invitational To Be In Barre, Vt.

The basketball fans in Burlington will be in for a big surprise when they learn that the St. Michael's Invitational Basketball Tournament, Dec. 18, 19, will not be held in Burlington as usual but in Barre, Vt.

The Tourney which will have Norwich, Assumption and St. Anselm's along with St. Michael's participating is the third annual affair to be sponsored by SMC.

Inaugurated in 1957 by George "Doc" Jacobs the Tourney has met with indifference on the part of the Burlington fans. Because it is held during the Christmas vacation most students do not attend so that the major portion of the fans are interested Burlingtonians.

BARRE

The move to Barre is bound to bring more fans to the two night affair. Barre is a good basketball town and the location of the Vermont High School Championships the last couple years.

FIELD HOUSE

Unlike the Burlington Memorial Auditorium the Barre Field House is made for basketball, offering many good seats none of which cut off view of any part of the court.

Another reason for the move to Barre is one of central location. St. Anselm's from New Hampshire, Assumption from Worcester, Mass., St. Michael's will have to travel only 40 miles and Norwich U. is in the area. Norwich is popular around Barre and should have a big backing from the local fans.

St. Michael's won the original Invitational in '57 by beating a field of six entries. However last Christmas the Cats from UVM came through in the final minutes to upset the Saints and bring home the trophy.

St. Michael's has played in Barre before dumping Dartmouth 46-42 in 1950.

GRIDIRON GRAVY

Mississippi vs. Arkansas: The Rebels from Mississippi are undefeated and are ranked fourth in the nation. Arkansas finds a tenth place open to them even though they have once lost. The Razorbacks have knocked off some good teams including T.C.U. I'll go out on a limb: Arkansas

L.S.U. vs. Florida: The Gators lost a very disappointing game to Vanderbilt last week and are faced with a tough opponent to come back to their winning ways. L.S.U. is the number one team in football and should make it 16 in a row: L.S.U.

Notre Dame vs. Northwestern: Notre Dame has always been an annual football power. According to last week's lecture, before the game of the week, I learned that the coaches have carried on a tradition and not the players. Well if it is the coaching that gives the Fighting Irish their tradition, Joe Kuharick better quit: Northwestern

Wisconsin vs. Ohio St.: Considered among the top Big Ten powers before the start of the season, these two teams have been taking it on the chin. There are two probable All-Americans playing in this close game. They are Bob White, Ohio State fullback, and Dale Hackbart, Wisconsin quarterback. The score should be interesting: Wisconsin

Oklahoma vs. Kansas: The Sooners have had to show two set-backs to their record and both losses were with the second and third ranked teams. Other than these two games Oklahoma has done very well for themselves. They had better hustle if they want that Big Eight title though: Oklahoma

Iowa vs. Purdue: Last week both teams were upset right out of the top ten listings. You can bet the winner of this game will be in the poll next week. This is another tough game to pick but I've guessed wrong too many times going against the Boilermakers: Purdue

Pennsylvania vs. Navy: The undefeated Red and Blue might be taking on something just a little bit too big. Navy has just been on and off every week but they are still able to win games. It will be a good test for: Pennsylvania

Pittsburgh vs. T.C.U.: The Panthers own schedule has been their downfall this year. They just can't help but lose games. The Horned Frogs have dropped two but don't count them out: T.C.U.

Texas vs. Rice: This traditional Southwest Conference slugfest wouldn't surprise me one way or another but it might surprise the Longhorns undefeated record plus knock them out of their third place in the top ten: Texas

Michigan vs. Minnesota: This is one of the biggest rivalries in football. This game is usually picked for the game of the week. This season, however, both teams are fighting to stay out of the Big Ten cellar. The winner will take home the Little Brown Jug: Michigan

Holy Cross vs. Columbia: As everyone knows, I picked Holy Cross to win last week. All this week, I've been reminded that they lost 42-6. Don't let me down again Crusaders: Holy Cross

UNDEFEATED JRS WIN TOUCH FOOTBALL TITLE

The "boys of '61" wrapped up another Interclass Football Championship Monday evening with a 14-0 victory over the Sophomores. It was the Juniors' sixth win in as many tries and their fourth shut-out of the season.

The Juniors scored early in the game when Harry Kerrigan tossed a pass to Dick Guilmette over the goal line. Kerrigan played the game with a bum leg which prohibited him from running any plays around the end.

STRONG JUNIOR LINE

The Sophomores made a few vain attempts at scoring but each time were halted by the hard rushing line of Boisseau, Richiski and Ambrose. When Basel did get off a pass he usually found the ready hands of Ron Janson and Tom Lapine open.

Late in the game and trailing 8-0, the Sophomores were hurt even more when their little half back-pass receiver, McGee, was injured defending against a pass. He was taken off the field and received four stitches in the back of his head.

KERRIGAN TO TARLETON

The Juniors second touchdown was a play originating on the 35 yard line. Kerrigan threw this time to Brian Tarleton who raced down the sidelines for a 14-0 lead. Tarleton has played two games and scored in each contest.

Receiving 5 points for each win and 10 for the championship, the "boys of '61" are now way out in front in the Interclass battle with 40 points.

Nine Third Year Men Make All-Star Football Team

OFFENSE:		DEFENSE:
QB - HARRY KERRIGAN	JR.	B - ED ANIBAL	JR.
B - WILLIE BASEL	SOPH.	B - GARY ANDREWS	SR.
B - DAN MAHONEY	JR.	B - MARY KING	FR.
B - JOE MAHONEY	SR.	B - PAT DE ANGELIS	SR.
E - DENNY McCARTHY	JR.	E - JERRY BOISSEAU	JR.
T - DICK TORYKIAN	JR.	L - TINY CLIFFORD	JR.
C - BILL BURNS	JR.	L - JOHN WHITCOMB	SOPH.
T - BILL FREIDANE	SOPH.	L - JACK DONAHUE	SR.
E - DICK GUILMETTE	JR.	E - JOE LAMOUREAX	SR.

The Interclass Football All-Star Team for 1959 is dominated by the undefeated and powerful Juniors as nine out of 18 positions are filled by the "Boys of '61. The team, picked by the officials in conjunction with the Sports Department of The MICHAELMAN, represents the outstanding performers in the recent touch football league.

It is the second consecutive year in which members of the class of '61 have dominated the All Star Team. In fact, many of the players are returnees from last year's honor squad.

Led by quarterback Harry Kerrigan the team has Dan Mahoney, Willie Basel and Joe Mahoney in the backfield on offense. Kerrigan and Dan Mahoney combined to give the Juniors a strong and deceptive attack all season. Willie Basel was the only thing that kept the Sophomore attack in motion. His throwing arm is unquestionably the best in the area and he also is good on defense.

Every backfield should have a speedy runner and this All-Star group is no exception. Joe Mahoney ran up more yards running than any other player in the league while handling the ball for the Seniors. He can also block and throw a long accurate pass.

On the other end of these passes would be Denny McCarthy and Dick Guilmette, both Juniors and who were the one, two scoring punch of the league. McCarthy was the leading scorer as well as the leading pass receiver. He also played on defense and intercepted many a pass which led to eventual Junior touchdowns.

LINE

Giving plenty of protection up front the offensive line has "Rug" Torykian and Bill Fredank flanking center Bill Burns.

Turning to the defensive unit the '59 All Stars have a most powerful line. Jerry Boisseau and Dave Clifford led a Junior attack which kept opposing backfields in a quandary. Joe Lamoureax and Jack Donahue did the same for the Seniors while John Whitcomb was the mainstay of the Sophomore line.

The four pass defenders in the backfield are led by leading pass interceptor, Ed Anibal who set up four Junior touchdowns during the course of the campaign. Marty King played both offense and defense for the Freshmen and is the only first year All-Star.

Senior DeAngelis and Andrews acted as field generals for their club all season. DeAngelis usually played at a backer-up spot on defense but his main job was calling the offensive plays for the Senior attack.

Purple Squires Set For Dartmouth Tilt

by Steve Cassano

St. Michael's Freshman basketball team, the Purple Squires, began practice this week and under coach Ed Markey will attempt to match last year's spotless record of eleven wins and no losses.

The Squires will open their season December 5 at Dartmouth as a preliminary contest to the big varsity tilt. Last year the Markeymen beat the Big Green of Dartmouth twice.

GOOD HEIGHT

As usual the prospects for the Frosh campaign can not be determined except on a speculative basis. The team has height in boys like Hoehl and O'Sullivan and some sharp outside men in Cerrato, Stagher and Marty King.

When Markey called for tryouts, 18 men showed up some of whom were pretty small. However, lack of height will not bother the club. The big boys are plentiful this year.

VARSITY

Graduating to the Varsity from last years' undefeated squad are Joe Hart, Tony Belanger and Will Basel. Big scorer and board man Bob Hojnacki has failed to return to the disappointment of Coach "Doc" Jacobs.

The 1959-60 squad is as follows:

Fred Cerrato, Bloomfield, N.J.
Jim Dyer, Chatham, N.J.
Bob Hoehl, Teaneck, N.J.
Dick Keelty, Jersey City, N.J.
Marty King, Jersey City, N.J.
Kevin Lynch, Deal, N.J.
Joe O'Sullivan, Yonkers, N.Y.
Dick Powers, Leonia, N.J.
Tom Schappert, N.Y.C., N.Y.
Hayes Stagner, Charlestown, N.H.
Bob Walsh, Dorchester, Mass.
Manager: Jim Daniel, Swanton, Vt.
